

DIMOCO Messaging is now iBASIS

Today marks a key milestone in iBASIS's messaging growth journey.

At the turn of 2023, our parent company Tofane Global announced the acquisition of DIMOCO Messaging, a leading global SMS aggregator based in Liechtenstein and Austria that delivers two billion messages per year.

iBASIS is thrilled to announce that after many months of hard work and integration, Tofane Global has decided to consolidate its messaging businesses under the iBASIS brand.

From the onset, our vision was clear. The fusion of DIMOCO Messaging with iBASIS was not just a merger of two entities but a blend of diverse cultures, ambitions, and aspirations. Coming together would offer all involved a dynamic, multicultural environment, positioning us as the foremost Tier One partner in the voice and mobile services sector.

The first 100 days embracing and integrating DIMOCO Messaging into the iBASIS family was a successful start, but the past nine months have been transformative. Together, we've merged the strengths of two formidable teams, navigated challenges, and witnessed impressive growth. The dedication and prowess exhibited by our teams during this transition has surpassed expectations, and we are excited about the future growth of iBASIS and the opportunities available for our customers.
